

Dear Hope Family!

The Apostle Paul often mentioned his love and longing to see people that were dear to him. His words and sentiment mean much to us during these days of social-distancing and physical separation! We love you and long for the days when we can once again gather for fellowship. Even though we are unable to (physically) meet, the connections online, phone calls and written notes help us be connected to one another. The opportunities to watch the Sunday morning live-stream worship service and to be part of the Zoom gatherings (check the church website for details/information at www.hopesearch.org) help us in our continued growth and walk with Jesus.

Soon a new online class will be offered by Hope as Pastor Kevin will lead a study on Spiritual Gifts. This will be a four week class held on the Thursdays in May (7th, 14th, 21th, 28th) from 7:00 – 8:15pm. This class will cover the definition, distribution, development and deployment of the gifts. We will consider the benefits and purpose of spiritual gifts, their use both inside and outside the local church, and their role in the life of the believer. This class will be helpful in understanding how God is at work in you and how He intends to use you! Pencil this class into your calendar now and look for more information later in future communications.

As we, as a society, continue to wait during these crazy days, remember, the best place to find rest and peace is in the presence of your loving Father. Psalm 91 reminds us, that “He who dwells in the shelter of the Most High will abide in the shadow of the Almighty.” Use this time to find comfort in the presence of the One who loves you best!
